

So, we need some help with thesis statements.

A good thesis requires two parts: First, it needs to have a simple “yes” or “no.”

Example:

The Endangered Species Act needs to be repealed immediately.

Then, it needs a few reasons why.

Example:

The Endangered Species Act needs to be repealed immediately because it is hindering the process of natural selection, limiting the acreage available for dirt bike racing, and making it difficult to obtain fur coats made from exotic animals.

Okay, now you try. In groups of two, pick five of the following topics and develop a thesis statement around them. I literally don't care what your thesis is or what your reasons are. Just make it happen. (Bonus points for funny).

Sports Trucks and SUV's Meat
Cable TV Hiking Ninjas
Science Fiction Movies
Snow $500 Shoes Bottled Water
High School Biology Classes
Poetry Local News Programs
Sleeping In Hunting Loud music