

The Taming of the Shrew - Induction

Robert Smirke - circa 1803

Reading with your whole body!

In class today we talked about reading a passage with your whole body. Your homework is simple. Pick a passage that you want to read with your entire body. Read it over a few times, then share it with somebody. Anybody. Your mom, dad, aunt, uncle, neighbor, whoever. Just read it with your whole body. Then, answer the following three questions in roughly one page (handwritten).

1. What do you think the passage means?
2. What was it like to read it aloud?
3. What does the passage tell you about the character?

Thou art a lord, and nothing but a lord. /
more beautiful / Than
waning age.”
