

In-class essay

In the Middle Ages, a crucible was a container used for holding and purifying molten metals. In modern times, the word is used to describe a severe test or trial. Throughout Miller's play, many of the characters experience severe tests. Write a short essay (3 paragraphs) explaining the trials some of the characters went through, and the results of their trials.